Dedication

To the evergreen trees of the Eastern Shore which ever serve as an inspiration to us in our work, we, the class of nineteen hundred thirty, dedicate this, the fifth year book of the Maryland State Normal School at Salisbury.

Foreword

IF this year book serves
to keep your school days
ever green in your memory, it will have fulfilled
its mission.

The Evergreens of the Eastern Shore

"Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree."

SO said the poet, Joyce Kilmer, in his poem, "Trees." Now Kilmer had in mind trees of all kinds: the giant oak, the shady maple, the prim spruce, and many others just as wonderful.

Could Kilmer have visited our dear old Eastern Shore and enjoyed the sight of our lovely evergreens, he would doubtless have been inspired by their beauty and steadfastness to write a poem, "Evergreens on the Shore."

Our evergreens are not only richly beautiful in their cloaks of bright green in the summer time, but they are also magnificent, clothed in their heavy mantles of dark green during the winter season. Think of those big clumps of rich green standing bold and alive before the onslaughts of snow, wind, sleet, and rain that cover, destroy, coat, and bend the bare arms of other trees! Then think of a lone tree, an evergreen, standing upright and brave upon a hill! How long it has stood we can not guess, but it is still dignified, majestic, unharmed, and patient after many years of winter gales.

To these great and beautiful trees we sing our songs of love and praise, and hope to shape our lives like theirs. May the troubles of life like the gales of the wind find us just as brave and patient as those single evergreens upon the hilltops!

Retrospect & Prospect

THIS Eastern Shore training school for teachers has now been serving the people of Maryland for five years. In each of the previous publications of this Annual the aims and purposes of the school have, from different angles, been briefly stated. To what extent have these objectives been realized?

The Board of Trustees wisely allowed the school much freedom in formulating its plan of administration and instruction. With no traditions to hamper it, the school realized the golden opportunity that confronted it, and the corresponding tremendous responsibility that lay upon it, to establish worthy goals, to make them clear to its clientele, and to exert every necessary and proper effort to bring them to fruition.

Five years is too short a time to afford a conclusive demonstration of the validity of the aims of a normal school, but it is long enough to justify tentative conclusions concerning its spirit, its life, and its achievements. Enough graduates have already gone into the field of elementary teaching service to enable the school administrator, the supervisor, and the patron to see what manner of preparation may be expected at the Maryland State Normal School at Salisbury.

We are grateful for the favorable comments that have, in generous measure, been made concerning our work. This institution seems to have won the approval of those whose support is essential to its well-being. The future gives promise of added prestige and good-will enrollments, and of a steady, sure growth in the respect and good-will of the people of Maryland. "'Tis a consummation devoutly to be wish'd."

CLASS POEM

You've taken the heart of me,
Eastern Shore,
You've become a part of me,
Eastern Shore,
Your hazy days, your lazy ways,
Your gleaming sand, your friendly hand,
Have made me love you,
Eastern Shore.
But now I'm through, I'm leaving you,
Eastern Shore.

I'm going back to my hills again,
Back to my hills and rock,
But I'm only taking part of me,
I've left my soul in hock.

And so good bye, old Eastern Shore,
Ye haven't played the game.
Ye've made me a traitor to my native hills.
I've nigh forgot their name!

And so good bye, ye whispering pines.
Ye haven't the strength of the oak
But ye took my heart to the heart of ye
And crushed it till it broke.

And so good bye, my pals and friends,
Nor grieve to see me go.
For the heart of me and the heart of ye
Will stay on the Eastern Sho'.

For you've taken the heart of me,
Eastern Shore,
You've become a part of me,
Eastern Shore,
Your hazy days, your lazy ways,
Your gleaming sand, your friendly hand,
Have made me love you,
Eastern Shore.

THE order of Patrons of Husbandry, commonly known as the Grange aims to serve the best interests of the people of the open country; it is free from every political or religious test for membership, yet it believes in politics and in religion: it upholds every organization which seeks to promote the welfare of humanity; it reveres the Holy Bible and is steadfast in its allegiance to the American Flag and to the Republic for which it stands; it is democratic in its administration and consistently encourages the best efforts of every member in furtherance of all worthy-while undertakings.

All this could with equal justice be said of the Salisbury Normal School. It is eminently fitting, therefore, that a Student Grange should be one of the organizations which are fostered and encouraged at this institution. Through and by the Grange some of the best principles of the school find effective expression.

This year has been marked by substantial growth in membership, by the beauty and effectiveness of ritualistic work, and by increased appropriations of funds for worthy purposes. The custom of making a pilgrimage to some historic shrine, which was instituted last year, and which proved so enjoyable and profitable, is to be continued, the Mecca this year being historic Jamestown.

NORMAL SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

THE Normal School Orchestra, a new organization in the school, had its beginning in April 1929. It was under the direction of Miss Gladys E. Feidler, the Director of Music in the normal School. The personnel of the organization at that time was Miss Gladys E. Feidler, Piano; Anna Bonner, Doris Cooper, and Ruth Morris, Violins: T. J. Caruthers, Violoncello; J. Wade Caruthers, C Melody Saxophone; William A. Matthews, E Flat Tenor Saxophone; Evelyn Paige, Marimbo; Jean Holloway, Drums.

In October of the following school year, 1929-1930, Professor John T. Hopkins was employed to take charge of the orchestra. New members were added from the incoming Junior class as well as from the Normal Elementary School. The personnel at present is: Professor John T. Hopkins, Director; Margaret McAllister, Piano; Mary Frances Crowe, Ruth Morris and Esther Collins, Violins; Grace Rood, T. J. Caruthers, Violoncellos; Catherine Harrison, Robert Holloway, E Flat Cornet; Pocahontas Somers, J. Wade Caruthers, Gladys Brohawn, C. Melody Saxophones; William A. Matthews, E Flat Tenor Saxophone; Rose Kelley, B Flat Tenor Saxophone; Jean Holloway, Drums.

ANOTHER successful year for the Glee Club, which is under the willing and friendly direction of Miss Margaret H. Black, has been brought to a close. Together with all our other good times, we have experienced much joy and fun in going to sing at various places; namely, Cambridge, Federalsburg, Princess Anne, Laurel, Denton, East New Market and also several places in Salisbury. We only wish as much success to the Glee Club of the coming years.

"Carnean" is just a name
To those who do not know;
But what it signifies for us
In rhyme we'll try to show.

"Carnean" means a lively group.
It bears a lady's name,
Whose work in education
Has won deserved fame.

"Carnean" is the glorious sound
That makes the rafters ring
In contests with the Bagleans
When for our Pep we sing.

"Carnean" brings to mind a dance;
Ballons of green and gold,
Where youth, and lights, and music
A tale of joy unfold.

But—most important of them all,
"Carnean" is the name
Which in defeat or victory
Means good sports just the same!

BAGLEAN SOCIETY

Faculty Adviser ..... Mr. Thomas J. Caruthers

THIS active Society was namer for Dr. William C. Bagley, a well-known educator at Columbia University. This year the Baglean Society can celebrate its fifth birthday. During its five years of existence it has done much to improve the social and educational activities in the school.

There are numerous things done in the Society, yet the things most outstanding are the contests with friendly rivals, the Carneans. The events for this year are:

Basketball, Story-telling, Tennis, Spelling, and Creative Effort.

The success of the Society is largely due to the untiring efforts of its adviser, its officers, and Micky, the mascot of the Society. Backing these are the loyal Bagleans with their song, "Give a Cheer for Bagleans."

"FOLLOW THE GLEAM"

THE beacon of willing service furnishes the gleam which illuminates the Path of Life. The Y. W. C. A. aims to train torch bearers who can carry that beacon into the lives of those who have only glimpsed the light from afar. Our own Y wishes to set forth one clear and simple, but exalted and grand lesson. Well might our slogan be "Walk ye worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called."

A CITY OF GROWING IMPORTANCE

Miss Collins: "Name a great manufacturing city."
Betty Dallas: "Pittsville."

BEAUTY IN OUR MIDST

Miss Collins: "Think back and decide what is the most beautiful building you have ever seen."
Betty Holloway: "The Wicomico Hotel."

"ZACTLY" RIGHT

Alice Mellott: "What does XL mean?"
Helen Sturgin: "X—l—oh, that means to be better'n somebody else."

IT MUST HAVE TAKEN

Senior I: "Why does Virginia Malone talk so much?"
Senior II: "Why, didn't you know she was vaccinated by a phonograph needle?"

FLATTERING FRIEND

Milford Brown (to girl walking down the street): "May I come to?"
Betty Bradley: "You'll never come to, unconscious."

EQUATOR AHEAD—STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

Virginia Dryden heard in Geography class:
"Miss Collins, is there a sign at the equator to tell you when you get there?"

NEW PUBLICATION BY MARK TWAIN

Miss Matthews: "Name some books written by Mark Twain."
Gladys Mullinix: "The Huckleberry Twins."

DO YOU AGREE?

Miss Wilson in Rural Soc. class: "Do you believe that a boy who is ten years old should be made to milk a cow?"
Emily Melvin: "No, I don't."
Miss Wilson: "What is your reason?"
Emily Melvin: "Because I wouldn't want to drink the milk."

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

In answer to one of Miss Wilson's questions:
Edna Beasten: "Well, I don't know."
Miss Wilson: "Then what do you think?"
Edna Beasten: "Well, if you don't know anything, you can't think."

WHY SHOULD HE?

Dr. Holloway, in Staff meeting: "Bill, what do you think of having the most beautiful girl in the popularity contest?"
Mr. Caruthers: "Well, I don't think Bill has anything to "Crowe" about."
